

The background of the poster is a dark blue stage scene framed by red curtains. In the center, a band is performing: a male singer in a light-colored shirt and tie stands at a microphone, a guitarist is visible to the right, and a drummer is partially visible behind him. In the foreground, there are large, stylized illustrations of a red and white striped bucket of popcorn, two blue soft drinks with white lids, and a 3D movie camera on a tripod. A film strip winds across the bottom of the stage area.
